CU COLLECT

CUTEK's advanced collection solution, CU Collect, offers a simple to use interface that places the critical information your collectors need up front, limiting the secondary systems and work areas required to work an account. The information presented is updated in real time, which means there's no need to access the host, including transactions.

CU Collect is perfectly scaled to meet your needs, while having the capability to integrate with any core processor and requiring minimum maintenance because of its web-based platform.

> " Seriously? No programming required to manage collections queues? And the reorganization of queues happen on the fly? Outstanding! "
